

Institute of Polish Philology, the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań announces the 15th edition of the FanFil Literary Contest

The Contest is addressed to pupils of secondary schools, both in Poland and abroad. Authors of the entries may not be older than twenty years. The language of the entries must be Polish.

This year's edition will see entries in four categories: poetry, prose, literary translation and a short film study.

- I. In Poetry, we welcome submissions of five poems of any length and on any topic.
- II. The Prose Contest is open to short literary forms of up to 16 standard pages (2,000 characters per page).
- III. The Translation Contest is open to translations of Adrienne Rich's poem XIII (Dedications) from the book An Atlas of the Difficult World: Poems, 1988-1991 (1991), from English into Polish. The full text is attached to the announcement in a separate file.
- IV. In the Short Film Study Contest we invite the entrants to interpret a literary work through the medium of film. Detailed terms and conditions are attached to the announcement in a separate file.

The deadline for entries: 1 March 2021.

The entries – only in an electronic version, in a PDF file – should be sent in to: fanfil@amu.edu.pl, with the name of the entry's category in the subject. In addition to the work, the email with the entry should contain a separate PDF file with complementary information, which include: the author's full name, without the alias, place of residence, email address, phone number, grade; full name of the literary supervisor, their email address, address of the school.

Moreover, the condition for participation in the Contest is the submission of written statements by the entrant, and if they are a minor, also by their parent or guardian:

1. A statement of consent to have one's personal data processed by the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań;
2. A statement on having read and accepted the Contest's terms and conditions, including the terms of and conditions of award and payment of prizes;
3. A statement of consent to have their personal data processed is made also by the literary supervisor.

The above mentioned statements should be confirmed with a handwritten signature, scanned and sent in to the address of the Contest's secretariat at: fanfil@amu.edu.pl. The organisers reserve the right to verify the identity of the entrants by phone or email, also by contacting the educational institutions named in the entries.

Entering the Contest is tantamount to stating that the entrant in the Contest is the author of the submitted works, and to giving consent to their free and unlimited use by the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, free of charge and without any time or territory for promotional or informational purposes, including their publication in printed promotional or information materials and on the websites of the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań (AMU), including the websites of the Institute of Polish Philology of the AMU and of the Contest.

The official remote announcement of the Contest's results is planned for May 2021.

The exact date will be communicated via email. The information will also be published on the Contest's homepage: www.fanfil.amu.edu.pl, the website of the Institute of Polish Studies: <http://polonistyka.amu.edu.pl> in the tab "Dla kandydata" → „Konkurs Literacki o Nagrodę FanFila”, and on our FB profile: <https://pl-pl.facebook.com/konkursliterackifanfil>.

Prizes (equal for each category) in this year's edition of the Contest amount:

- I. First prize: PLN 1,200;
- II. Second prize: PLN 800;
- III. Third prize: PLN 500;

The jury, whose members are prof. UAM dr hab. Irena Górska, dr Krzysztof Hoffmann, prof. UAM dr hab. Marcin Jaworski, dr Sylwia Karolak, prof. dr hab. Ewa Kraskowska, prof. UAM dr hab. Ewa Rajewska, chair of the jury, prof. UAM dr hab. Marcin Telicki and prof. UAM dr hab. Elżbieta Winiecka, reserves the right not to award any of the prizes and allows for private prizes to be awarded by persons and institutions. The jury also makes decisions concerning the publication of the awarded works on the homepage of the Institute of Polish Studies, the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan.

In this edition of the Contest special prizes may be awarded: authors of the best works sent in from abroad have a chance to receive an exemption from the fee for the first year of a first cycle programme, or a uniform master's programme at the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. Special prizes may be awarded in any of the Contest's four categories.

By submitting a work in the Contest, the entrant and their guardian declare that they agree to comply with the rules of the Contest and agree to the processing and use of their personal data for the purposes of organising the Contest (the consent to the processing and use of personal data is also given by the literary supervisor). They also have the right to access and modify them.

The controller of the personal data processed in the competition is Adam Mickiewicz University, with its registered seat in Poznan (61-712), ul. Wieniawskiego 1. The data controller has appointed a Data Protection Officer; email contact at iod@amu.edu.pl. The data will be processed for the purposes of organising the Contest. The legal basis for the processing of personal data is the expression of consent. The personal data will be processed for the period necessary to carry out the Competition, in accordance to its rules. The personal data will not be made available to other entities, with the exception of entities authorised by law. Persons who transfer their personal data have the right of access to the content of their data and, subject to the provisions of law, the right to rectify, erase, limit the processing, the right to transfer the data elsewhere, the right to object to the processing, the right to withdraw consent at any time, as well as the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority: the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection, ul. Stawki 2, 00-193 Warszawa. Providing the personal data is voluntary, but failing to provide them effectively prevents on from participation in the Contest.

